

Daniel McKinnon
EECS 376
Homework 1
01/27/16

This project was to program the actions and movements in a virtual robot simulator to get it to move the upper left hand corner of the provided map. This was done using the actions of rotating and spinning the robot before it moves forward. One thing to note: when running this simulation the results where not always identical for the same code.